Description

At Pearson, we are working with schools, colleges, employers and governments to provide internationally recognised education and training that helps learners keep up with the demands of modern society. Whether students wish to further their studies at some of the world's best universities or begin their career with a top employer, our qualifications open doors across the globe.

We are the UK's largest awarding body for academic and vocational qualifications with over 100 years' experience in providing education that is innovative, rigorous and rewarding. We believe that a successful curriculum should enable all your students to achieve, so we make it our goal to put the learner first through world-class teaching and learning resources.
