|-------------|

Award-winning manufacturer and supplier of musical instruments and music resources for schools with pupils aged 6 to 18 years. Drums for Schools are specialists in class instrumental teaching and their teaching programmes can be taught by generalist class teachers as well as by music specialists, enabling schools to become self-sufficient in teaching inclusive and accessible world music styles such as African Drumming, Samba, Gamelan, Steel Pans, Taiko and World Percussion. The programmes meet all the requirements of the IB and UK music syllabuses and comprehensive after-sales support for international customers includes teaching guides, online audio and video materials, expert advice, in-school workshops and professional development training. Drums for schools also provide award-winning music resources for Nurseries and Early Years providers under their Sound Children brand.
